Program Highlights

We are a safe haven for the vulnerable

AFFI is providing services for birth mothers facing difficult decisions.

We're here to listen and help in the language in which the mother is most comfortable. We will inform of the options available, help evaluate them and support her whether she chooses to parent or make an adoption plan.

Family Support Program

Did you know AFFI offers a myriad of IN-LANGUAGE and IN-CULTURE services for Asian families at risk of entering the foster system?

Including

KFAM's eyes and ears are always open to listen to the needs of our API communities that evolve over time in response to what is happening in the world today. And there are additional services and resources we provide that is not covered by government grants.
